

Coran's Opinion of Police Board

The petty quibbling, querulous puerility and childish conduct of the commission during the last few weeks demonstrates their absolute unfitness for office, and their contemplated stupid persistence in adhering to untenable positions will bring to them either pity for their weakness or contempt for their viciousness.—Statement by John Coran.

USED BARS 35000 $5,000

A Considerable Decrease in Dining Table and Room Receipts.

WATER LOSSES EXPECTED

As a result of the action of District Attorney B. Moran, in compelling the Boston, Young's, the Adams House, to stop selling liquor, the loss of $5,000 in receipts of hotels for the last day. It is estimated that this amount will be increased to $10,000 as the bars remain closed.

From estimates furnished by the hotel men it is found that the dining rooms fell off ten per cent the first day and the receipts from the account of the dining rooms showed a decrease of twenty-five per cent. The hotel trade was very slender in comparison with previous evenings. Morning receipts were also slender, and not being able to get it at these hotels, there went some of them.

All of Them Are Not Alike.

All the hotels fell the loss of the four-hour trade in liquor, sold over the counter, and especially during the noon hours. Young's and Parker's are the only ones who have not been closed.

At Young's all three dining rooms have been crowded during the noon hour. The Court square dining room, where some of the best of the city's business men are gathered, in the other dining rooms, patronized exclusively by men, only a few are seen.

Parker's has a similar experience. The small bar has been maintained, was crowded during the noon hour, and the bar room on Tremont street, where the bar had about the usual number of patrons.

But the tables in that section of the dining room on Tremont street, where the bar had about the usual number of patrons, were empty.

The main dining room of the Adams House during the noon hour is largely patronized by women, and the loss of material decrease in the patronage. But the small dining room, where the men are gathered, only half its usual number.

Essex Suffered Most.

The Hotel Essex suffered more than any one of the other three during the four hours. This hotel, located in the heart of the hotel and business district, is a favorite resort for business men and the hotel trade, and has been patronized by visitors who have been in the city for the last few days.

In the case of the Essex, the loss of the four-hour trade was not so great as in the case of the other three hotels. The hotel trade was not so great as in the case of the other three hotels.

At the Adams House, George B. Hall was equally unconcerned. He could say that the liquor business was unimportant, and that he had no objection to the hotel trade when the hotel trade was not so great as in the case of the other three hotels.

MORAN POURS HOT SHOT INTO POLICE BOARD IN LETTER

District Attorney John B. Moran has found it necessary to issue a statement in answer to the charge that he is opposing the leasing of new liquor licenses to the four hotels—the Parker House, Young's, the Adams House, and the Essex—whose bars have been closed.

"The law, as every lawyer will admit, does not require a man to give up his property on the ground of his unfitness for office. It is a question of the law, and not of the man's fitness for office."

Good Word for Hotels.

"In each of the four hotels the seven law was violated only after the first of December 1. The Boston, Young's, and the Essex, of district attorney and gave to the hotel trade a new lease of life. The hotel trade was not so great as in the case of the other three hotels."

Condemns the Board.

"The seven and eight condition of each of these hotels have been closed to the police commissioners, for some of them frequently passed the majority of these hotels."

REVERE POLICE SEARCHING ASHES FOR HUMAN REMAINS ON SITE OF OAK ISLAND HOTEL.

Information on a postal card sent anonymously to Chief Rhoades and stating that the body of a murdered man was hidden in the ruins of the hotel. The card was signed "H. B. Moran" and was dated December 1, 1905. The card was received by Chief Rhoades on December 1, 1905.

Matter Taken Seriously.

Chief Rhoades takes the matter seriously. He says that the card was mailed on Christmas day, sixteen days after the fire at the hotel, and he believes that had the card been written by someone in a hotel, it would have been written sooner.

Fire Incendiary.

The case of the fire which destroyed the hotel has never been satisfactorily determined. The fire department officials believe that the fire was incendiary, and that it was set by someone in the hotel.
